I have a little end of hair, As golden as the sundest my; No treasure with it eve compare— Its hearty cannot pass away,

Close to my Spa I press the prize, It may be weakness so to do, But seemsthing melting in my eyes Is the exerce I offer you.

Till-hatte and of golden hair Speaks to my heart of one who died— A blue eyed bay, as sweet and fair As eye invoked a father's pride,

One Stammer's dowers above his bed Have sweetly bloomed and gone to rest, Since last 5 held his little head Against my sad carl aching breast,

Above his deep the snowy white Has sofity gathered, like a crown And hidden from my eyes' dim sight The Wintergrass-blades seer and brown But whether with the roses' red,

Or with the Winter's drapery, His little grave he garbaded, It is a lovely spot to me. There, when the sleadows of the night Arise and drive the day afar, I see him, with his arown of light, Look down from Heaven like a star.

I see his beautions smile enshrined In bright waves from the starry (ky; I hant his sweet voice in the wind That nurranes through each bicssomed

FOUND AT LAST, a remedy that not only POUND AT LAST, a remoty that not only relieves, but cures that enemy of menkind, Consumption, as well as the numerous satellites which revolve around it in the shape of Coughs, Colds, Brenchitts, Sore Throat, Influenza, &c. The remedy we allude to is Dr. Wistan's Batsan ov With Cherry, prepared by Seth W. Fowle & Son, Hoston.

The Washington Library Company of Philadelphia gains credit and support every day. The sales of stock surpass all expectation, and the prospect is, that the funds for the noble object will be secured even in advance of the time auticipated. The reason is obvious. The design is worthy, and creditable to the patriotic hearts who are laboring to reward a too much medicing A mendicant, well known in the neigh-Paris, addressed to a gentleman the following irresistible appeal: "I am poor, monsieur, but I am religious. I want but one of the saving virtues. I have Faith. I have. Hope. It remains with you to give me Charity." creditable to the patriotic hearts who are laboring to reward a too much neglected class. The funds go into responsible hands and the public have no jears that they will be mis-directed. The plan adopted satisfies the scruptes of the most conscientious, and has the endorsement of eminent legal authority. It is by its distinctive factors eminent processed from the tabulate of earth nemons. A West Virginia paper says that General Lee very rarely says anything about politics, but that when he does refer to the political condition of the country he advices a sub-mission, in good faith, to the result of the war a strict obedience to the laws, and that everything which could be torured even intirely removed from the faint of catch-penny or tremoved tron the faint of catch-penny schunes which have so often been the means of imposing on the public. It gives to purchasers of its stocks a full equivalent for the consideration paid. All its transactions are open and above board. It has no concealments, and the reputation of the managers is such traits then reputation of the managers.
